Good Day,

With over twenty years of delivering high-quality services. My own professional values include being open to learning & improving. I as well possess the ability to teach others. I envision myself setting the stage for success based upon below.

In my previous roles, I was integral to a team that embraced a "hurry up & wait" mentality, a strategy that contributed to our multiple Emmy nominations & numerous successful projects. I played a key role in coordinating live broadcasts meanwhile managing redundancies, ensuring seamless tracking live-to-tape. Our teams actively engaged with local communities & partnered with educational & healthcare institutions, which helped enhance funding opportunities & raise critical awareness.

I have successfully managed the intricate coordination of live television broadcasts among multiple studios, taking on additional tasks such as creating board templates, complex mix minuses & IFB routing, as well as mixing live-to-tape or field camera feeds. I consistently ensured that all equipment operated effectively, including the strategic placement of lavalieres to minimize noise & maintain visual appeal. I'm highly skilled in handling multiple camera shoots in the field, utilizing lavalieres, & managing both the mixer & boom operations. I have recorded national musical talent live during fundraising events to generate supplementary content. I'm proficient in Pro Tools for post-production, along with other digital audio workstations and video editing software, with a comprehensive software list available on my website.

Additionally I have had the privilege of overseeing music production projects for several prestigious labels & talent which has sharpened my creative & operational management skills. My strategic approach to production management allows for me to thrive in collaborative environments. I'm committed to upholding high standards of professionalism while fostering innovative solutions that enhance client experiences.

My educational background in nonprofit management further enhances my ability to blend creative & strategic thinking, particularly in diversely supportive roles. I'm eager to bring my unique blend of skills to & contribute to fostering a collaborative culture. Thank you for your consideration. I'm looking forward to the possibility of discussing how I can contribute.

Sincerely,
Henry Manitius
